

As a resident of the Denver metro area, there is only one station that plays Christian music all the time. This station is KLove. I listen to KLove at home, in the car and at work. KLove is a station I listen to with my adopted "nephews," aged 5 and 7, and don't have to worry about inappropriate language. In fact, they enjoy the station and love to sing along.

Please don't let KLove be taken away by a LPFM. I love KLove, and want to continue to listen to it. The service to the Christian community, as well as families not willing to put offensive material on their family radios, is immeasurable.
